

Katy Farr Web Design Terms of Service

Payment of the deposit solidifies your acceptance of these terms.

I cannot be held responsible for anything you feel you did not know by not reading said terms. If you have any questions and/or comments about these TERMS OF SERVICE please contact me directly. Thank you.

Katy Farr Web Design reserves the right to refuse, suspend or terminate services at my discretion.

By ordering services through Katy Farr Web Design you are agreeing to the following:

1. A Deposit is due prior to the start of any work. Payment plans may be worked out under special circumstances, but a 50% deposit must be made before work will start.
2. The price quote you receive is based on the scope and complexity of your project and the estimate of the time it will take to complete it. I come up with this estimate from the information I have collected from you about your project. This is an initial price quote. If after payment is made and work is started you decide to change the scope of your project, add any extra services or you misrepresented your needs, you will be billed (usually upon project completion) for any extra time incurred over the initial estimate.
3. All prices are US dollars.
4. Katy Farr Web Design does not issue refunds of the initial deposit. The deposit is to cover the cost of consultation, research and the design of your project.
6. You are responsible for obtaining proper licensing for all blog software used. Katy Farr Web Design does not provide support for use of blog software. It is the sole responsibility of the client to obtain support from the appropriate vendor.
7. All CMS plugins are released under their own licenses and are owned by their respective developers. Katy Farr Web Design provides an installation service only.
8. Katy Farr Web Design is not responsible for the images placed on your new design. If you direct me to find an image for you, I will get your image from one of a number of royalty-free stock photography/illustration websites. Custom illustration may be ordered though additional fees will apply. All images are provided and/or approved by you, the client, and therefore all risk of liability is presupposed by you.

9. Design includes up to two mock-ups and up to 4 minor revisions to the final mock-up. It is important that you list all your concerns/changes to the design at this stage as once the final mock-up is approved and installed no more major changes will be made. Any major changes you feel should be made after this stage will be billed accordingly and will be made pending the my schedule.
10. Katy Farr Web Design cannot guarantee designs will view correctly in every single browser and/or platform. I will do my best to ensure that your new design is functional in the latest versions of Internet Explorer, Firefox and Opera, and Safari but cannot guarantee it will be the same for other browsers/platforms (especially older ones or ones in beta). If you use a different browser or platform, and would like a design done to meet that browser or platform's specifications, please consult with me. (Additional fees may apply.)
11. Katy Farr Web Design reserves the right to state when a client has exhausted the designer's services at any time.
12. Placement of Katy Farr Web Design text link is required for the duration of your use of the design. Removal of this button or link is a violation of your agreement with me.
13. Katy Farr Web Design does not save/backup your existing template. If you would like to keep your prior template, I suggest saving it to your computer files BEFORE hiring a web designer. I also do not save/backup the new design. I suggest that you save your new template to your computer files once the design is complete. This is very important and will save you money should anything happen to your design in the future. Any work done to an already completed design is done at an additional cost.
14. Once your design is completely installed and any minor changes have been made you assume all responsibility for your site. If anything needs to be changed, deleted, moved and so forth you can put in a new work order. You will then be placed back on the schedule and your request will be completed in the order it was received.
15. All designs by Katy Farr Web Design are exclusively created for use by the clients who commissioned them and may not be used by anyone else. Designs created by Katy Farr Web Design may only be used for their original purpose. This means that you are NOT allowed to republish or sell your design to anyone. Katy Farr Web Design also retains the right to display graphics and other web design elements from any design as examples of our work anywhere on the internet or as hard copies.
